

Psalm 91 Declaration

I live under the protection of the Most High

I dwell in the shadow of the Almighty

I say to the Lord “my refuge and my fortress, my God, in Whom I trust.”

You, Yourself will deliver me from the hunter’s net, from the destructive plague.

You cover me with Your feathers. I take refuge under Your wings.

Your faithfulness is a protective shield.

I will not fear the terror of the night, the arrow that flies by day, the plague that stalks in darkness, or the pestilence that ravages at noon.

Though a thousand fall at my side and ten thousand at my right hand, the pestilence will not reach me.

I will only see it with my eyes and witness the punishment of the wicked.

Because I have made You, Lord my refuge, the Most High, my dwelling place, no harm will come to me; no plague will come near my tent.

For You give Your angels orders concerning me, to protect me in all my ways.

They support me with their hands so that I will not strike my foot against a stone.

I tread on the lion and the cobra; I trample the young lion and the serpent.

Because I am lovingly devoted to You, You deliver me; You protect me because I know Your Name.

When I call out to You, You answer me; You are with me in trouble. You rescue me and give me honor. You will satisfy me with a long life and show me Your salvation.